ANNEXED NOTE

1. Characteristics of data, definitions

Number of deaths by gender for the year 1990 and 1991 are estimates.

The Department of Preventive Medicine under the Ministry of Health is responsible for the registration of births and deaths.

Both births and deaths are to be reported to the nearest health center and the information will be forwarded to the Ministry of Health for registration and for entering into a database.

The information extracted from this database is then passed on to the Central Statistics Department (Ministry of Economy) for statistical purposes.

For death reporting, the age, sex and occupation of the deceased, the month death occurred, and the cause of death are included.
