Saudi Arabia: Abolishment of the Yellow Band from the Nitagat Program

Saudi Arabia: Abolishment of the Yellow Band from the Nitagat Program

Title Saudi Arabia: Ministerial decision to abolish the Yellow band

Date of 26 September 2019 conclusion

Entry into

26 January 2020 force

Text version(s) English

Source Minister of Human Resources and Social Development, Issue No. 1/63717 (26 September 2019), accessed: 25 October 2022, https://hrsd.gov.sa/en/decisions Last accessed: 25 October 2022

Saudi; Laws & Regulations; Policy Keywords

Abstract

The Minister of Human Resources and Social Development passed an order to abolish the yellow band of the Nitaqat Program. Under the Nitaqat program, companies in Saudi Arabia were required to hire a certain number of local individuals to reduce the state's unemployment rate. The companies are categorized based on their compliance with the Nitagat program. The higher the compliance rate, the more foreign nationals a company can employ. The yellow band companies were near the bottom, which is red. Now, the companies in the yellow band will be moved to the red band, and they will not be able to issue more visas for foreign nationals or renew their work permit.